that tax on those who make honest declarations of value. The present Treasury flatters himself that he can check false declarations, and expects by so doing to increase the ad valorem receipts by one-third. This expectation is equivalent to an admission that under the present regime he loses one-third, and that the other hand is not even so simple as to try to prevent any attempt yet made to check fraud has involved a further hindrance to the unloading of vessels, and added to the irritation of importers. At the last general election we dislike to ad valorem duties was so strongly expressed that a large majority of the members pledged themselves to assist in their abolition. Yet, in spite of this, the present government invited the Assembly to increase the duty to 10 per cent. on a great many titles. This, however, they have not been able to carry. In most things they have used a docile majority; but there are limits to party allegiance, and only five members could be counted upon to support the Government's attempt to make the Assembly deliberately, if not actually, itself. There were nineteen members who were disposed to abide by their promises in the hustings, and who were willing to vote away the ad valorem duties altogether, and throw upon the Government the responsibility of doing so. And some of these were men to do without the money. But the majority acquiesced in the representation that there was no other available tax, no present possibility of retrenchment, that the money are urgently needed, and could not be foregone. The results of the proposed measures are therefore those that the promised abolition of these duties is indefinitely postponed, but that we attempt to double them has for the present been foiled. In this latter fact there is some cause for congratulation. One of the evils of an ad valorem system is that it allows an immediate increase in the duties on the most important articles, and puts on an additional five per cent., and this is especially the case in this colony, where we have a Government that distinctly avows that this is the only way left of raising money. If we are bound to keep the tax on tobacco no substitute is possible, it is the only solid ground on which we can raise more money we are bound, it must be said, to percentage. The Government avows itself absolutely without any other resource. Several members who voted against the increase this session stated that they did so mainly on the ground that it would be necessary to raise taxes necessarily, but that if that really conformed to their views, they would have no objection. It was made clear, they would acquiesce. With half-a-dozen members in such a frame of mind, it is obvious that the Government has only to be persistently extravagant to create such a demand for more revenue as will establish the required grounds for increasing the interest rate. Therefore, it is identical with economic government, which is precisely what constitutes the danger to free trade in this colony. Theoretically, we have but comparatively few converts to protection. Lecturers and agitators have tried hard for the last twenty years, and have failed to convince the people that it is to their interest to narrow the entrance to their port. On the other hand, nearly every one has converted to extravagance—not in the abstract, of course, in which form every one loudly condemns it, but in the concrete. Each man has his special interest, his special hobby, his special, and almost each individual, has some special wants or some particular hobby, and as the number of desirable things, no doubt each man's name is legion. The colony wants more roads, more railroads, more telegraphs, more postal service, more schools, more police, more public buildings, &c., and as there is no present nor surplus margin of revenue, out of which to pay for these things, or even out which to pay the interest on more loans ; and therefore we must either call a halt in the progressive rate of our expenditure, or else consent somehow or other to raise more revenue. Hitherto our Governments have been content to squander money as much as the Custom-house than to enforce municipal taxation, and the present Government avows that it has no other policy, and indeed no other wish. The danger to freedom of commerce, therefore, lies not in any theoretical conversion to the doctrine of protection, but in the agency of demands of public improvements, and in the inability of any Government to raise fresh revenue otherwise than through the Custom-house.

The tariff, as now adjusted, is not materially different from that which was before the House when the late Ministry was turned out. The late TREASURER had, indeed, proposed to substitute a measurement for the duties on valorem, and it is to be regretted that he fell back on the existing system, and largely increased his list of specific duties. Between his final proposals and that which has been accepted by the present Government there is very little to choose. There are some differences, but they are mainly of a trifling nature. I am sure that no one would make any difference between one party and the other. There has been such a difference in what has been pro-osed, but not in what has been accepted; and the people wonderingly ask themselves what need there was to keep the commerce of the city in suspense for three months, simply that one Cabinet might pass what its predecessor had been prevented from doing? Those who are in office, however, are quite satisfied with the change, and can see a Providence in the course of events even if others are blind to it.

THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF INSOLVENT DEBTORS AND THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNMENT.—A rule and order of the court, dated 10th January 1890, in relation to the Official Assignee of Mr. Darley, at the instance of Mr. R. H. Campbell, official assignee of the insolvent estate of John Frost, dated 10th January 1890, is as follows:

THROWING FRUIT SKINS UPON THE PAVEMENT—The Inspector of Nuisances yesterday pronounced a penalty upon a person who had thrown certain fruit skins upon the pavement in the city of London. The person who had done this was recently arrested by a law-agent visiting the skins of fruit upon the footpaths. The defendant was found guilty of the offence and was fined 10s. This was the first prosecution under the by-law, and the locality that he inhabited was not aware of its existence until he was arrested. He had been told that it was a nuisance, but he intended that in any future case of a similar nature, they would feel it to be their duty in the interests of the public to impose exemplary penalties.

WOOL, TALLOW, AND HIDES.

Contract time, although the steamer, on her passage Melbourne was delayed by thick weather, which was it imprudent to attempt to make for the harbour during night.

Our advices direct from the mother country extend to the end of January, and telegrams via India acquaint us with the date on which the first series of sales of wool actually commenced; but it is presumed the advertised time (2nd February) was strictly adhered to.

bringing outside buyers into the market, and even the whole being firmer; irrespective of any improvement which the cessation of hostilities in the European Continent might be supposed to occasion. The arrivals of wool during the month have exhibited considerable falling off, showing that the wool is drawing towards a close, though there must still be considerable quantity yet to come forward, either for shipment.

During the month the usual public sales have been but the aggregate quantity offered is difficult to estimate as many lots have appeared in successive catalogues. In fact, it would be easy to report numerous parcels that have undergone the third time of asking without alliance between buyers and sellers. But the total quantity actually disposed of under the hammer since the date of the last report has amounted to 3690 bales, particulars of which will be given in the course of the month.

will be found in the usual appendix. Some important private contract have also been made, and such as come to the writer's notice will be recorded in the convenient place.

Since the departure of the last mail, the Council of Agricultural Society have published their wool for their next annual exhibition. It is, however, subject to criticism, and I trust open to amendment. It is in the hope of adding something to its usefulness.

I take the opportunity of making it a prominent subject, my present humble article.

My first step in making distinction between between coming and clothing words, and this I believe step in the right direction, with all respect to the expression expressed by the gentleman, who, at Manchester, has been so good as to write me, and to No one can tell what is coming and what is
"If the gentleman has only intended to say conditions of coming and clothing, I may be glad to agree with him, but manufacturers of clothing can only provide what sorters require to be made, and not what sorters require to be to utilize short grown wools for purposes for under the ordinary process of coming a long at it would be absurd to impose a limit upon its necessity. But coming implies a process well known to all who are tolerably familiar with the manufacture of cloth, and for purposes of making the mistake or passed over by buyers who understand

But the question of most importance to our wool is this—what is the particular class of wool to which should turn their attention? I have been a pe-advocate for the culture of the close-grown clothing for their production, on the whole, a premium for their production, and it is only in a very few where we can hope to compete with Victoria and Zealand in deep grown wools, which I must penomenating as especially combing qualities. On the land, the other colonies have no chance with us wools, as our own country is so admirably adapted there. Length of staple we cannot generally hope to unless at the expense of the pure merino character wool; nor does the absence of length necessarily light weight of fleece, for closeness of growth will preference more than counterbalance the advantage

During the past few years, I have been using open-wool and some of my sheep have been producing the lambs of acting as a judge at the first wool show held in my home town of New York City in 1900. I have been in the wool business for many years ago, when the first prize was awarded for the best quality of wool. I do not think that the wool of the exhibits exceeded two inches in length; and was so closely grown, or so dense as it is now. I can call it, that the fleeces averaged 34 lbs. in weight and they were as well washed as any wools I have seen, either before or since.

It is not generally considered that the wool of the sheep is of much value in a Court of justice; and I suppose that individual opinions may not go for much, unless supported. In confirmation of the above, remember

[illegible]

The true aim of your growers should be to produce the best wool, suitable for clothing purposes. It is not the aim of the exhibitor to produce the best, and I find no evidence of "imputed qualities," two separate columns intended to indicate cleanliness and the other to indicate the quality of the wool. I find no evidence in which wool is set up; and surely condition is sufficient to judge the purpose. I venture to predict approximately filling up both columns. Again, the exhibitor is to have 120 points for the number of the number of points at 120, with the rate point shall be given for each ounce. This association should be to encourage the careful and the cleaning of wool; and the weight of any real wool would give 64 points as the highest number that possibly be awarded. I think also, that two or three "setters" is a term common enough, and well understood; partly familiar with the wool trade. I further believe that the exhibitor is to be awarded a prize should be the column in the judge's awards indicated.

I offer the above remarks with the sole object of improving the society in their laudable efforts to produce the best of the staple products, none of which can be greater than that from our own sheep.

SURPRISES

The supply of sheepskins has been very

But prices have on the whole been well sustained during the greater part of the month, and prices for the best grades in average condition have ranged as high as 64d. per lb. During the last week, however, demand sensibly decreased, in consequence of the supply of wools in grease, and at the recent public sale several important parcels were bought in.

TALLOW.

The market has been subject to fluctuations. A few shipping parcels were comparatively unsold, and lower rates of freight have latterly induced buyers more freely into the market, and present quotations for the best types are higher than the closing rates prior to the departure of the last cargo.

During the month have been cleared 2225 casks of tallow. Present prices may be quoted as follows: 56s. to 59s.; ordinary to fair beef, 50s. to 52s. 6d. tallow, the 5d. to 5s. and good to prime tallow, 55s. 6d. per cwt.

HIDES.

The market has been moderately supplied, and throughout the month have been much in favour of it. The total quantity offered this month by auction was 8119, and of these 7347 were disposed of by hammer. By the last public sale a small quantity of the best quality was realised at the extreme price of 100 guineas a cask. The following are the current quotations:—Best quality, 100 to 105; good, 95 to 100; 6d. to 1st. c., 85 to 100; well cured medium, 17s. to 18s.; heavy, 25s. to 27s.; and first-class heavy and extra from 24s. to 26s. 6d. each.

Full particulars of the publications of wool, tailors will be found in my usual appendix.

George R. Hest, 375, George-

APPROX-
WOOD.

George R. Hest and Co. postponed their weekly sale for a short time. Probably the chief cause was, that the weather conditions had been pretty well exhausted of late of the previous week; and that after the departure of the market might be reasonably anticipated.

Meares, Mart and Co. also disposed of some classes of tallow, the highest quality of which was sold at 25s. 6d. per cwt. The best of the other grades, made up of 200 casks, sold for 23s. 6d. per cwt. fair to good beef realized 30s. 6d. to 32s. 6d., and inferior qualities from 28s. to 29s. 6d. per cwt. Messrs. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin sold 23 loads of tallow, the best of which was sold at 25s. 6d. per cwt. The other parcels were exclusively inferior qualities and light weights, not worth special notice. The same firm sold upwards of 200 casks of tallow at 25s. 6d. for good medium, 25s. 6d. to 32s. for fair to first-class beef, and 28s. 6d. to 29s. for inferior qualities.

Mr. J. A. Turner sold 37 parcels of hides. The highest quality of which was sold at 25s. 6d. per cwt. The other descriptions brought fully relative prices. Mr. Turner's sales of tallow comprised 80 casks at 27s. to 32s. 9d., according to quality.

MERCANTILE AND MONEY ARTICLE.

THURSDAY EVENING.

THE Customs revenue received to-day amounted to £1448 8s. 4d.

The R. M. S. Geelong takes 30,123 sovereigns, 825 oz. gold, and gold coin valued at £750.

The Patriarch, since clearing for London, has taken on board 58 cases tobacco, for which she will make an additional clearance to-morrow.

The K. M. S. Wonga Wonga, from Honolulu, arrived this evening, bringing Californian papers to February 16th, and telegrams from New York, to the same date. The Annie had sailed from that port for Adelaide. The Flying Eagle cleared for Melbourne on the 15th with 17,475 cases kerosene, 1000 lbs tobacco, 520 cases lob-ters, 200 cases oysters, 130,000 feet lumber, and the Agate was ready to sail from Boston with 4000 cases kerosene and sundries. The Tuck Ring, loading for Sydney, had engaged 4600 cases kerosene, and was filling up very slowly. The East Lothian was chartered for this port and Auckland. The Black Prince and Game Cock, for Melbourne, and the Fagu, for Adelaide. Lumber and kerosene in demand for Australia. Tobacco quiet. Exchange on London, 109½ to 110½. We hear of nothing looking for Australia or San Francisco.

THE COMMERCE MARKETS.—A good demand for all descriptions of colonial produce at similar rates to those quoted last month was experienced until the arrival of the January mail from England. The favourable character of advices then received imparted a more buoyant tone to the wool market, and at the public sales since held fleece commanded

THE EXPORT MARKETS.—A good demand for all descriptions of colonial produce at similar rates to those quoted last month was experienced until the arrival of the January mail from England. The favourable character of advices then received imparted a more buoyant tone to the wool market, and at the public sales since held fleece commanded slightly higher prices. At the wool sales held to-day prices were firm. Mr. Turner catalogued 338 bales, and disposed of the following:—JT over M, 8 greasy and 100 lbs. of 10d.; 100 lbs. of 7d.; Calumny 17 fleeces at 10d.; 1 fleece at 7d.; 100 lbs. of 10d.; 20 fleeces at 12d.; 6 pieces at 8d.; 1 black at 9d.; 1 at 6d.; Z in triangle, 9 fleeces at 10d.; 3 locks at 5d.; MX, 15 fleeces at 11d.; 2 damaged at 9d.; 7 greasy at 5d.; 1 damaged at 6d.; 4 pieces at 7d.; JIR, 5 secured at 14d.; 5 at 12d.; CUL in octagon, 60 fleeces at 14d.; 1 at 12d.; 1 at 10d.; R, 2 secured at 7d.; G & F, 6 mixed at 10d.; E, 2 secured at 13d.; 6 odd bales 33d. to 84d.; 4 lots sheepskins 33d. to 44d.; pelts at 14d. to 2d. Messrs. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin sold: HC, 53 bales fleece wool at 11d.; 16 locks and pieces at 7d.; MLE, 7 fleeces at 11d.; 1 hand washed at 7d.; 1 clips at 3d.; LD (reversed), 7 fleeces at 11d.; 2 locks and pieces at 7d.; H&Fp, 16 fleeces at 12d.; 3 lambs at 10d.; 100 lbs. 8d.; 100 lbs. 7d.; 100 lbs. 6d.; 100 lbs. 5d.; 2 skirts at 11d.; JHS 18 fleeces at 14d.; 1 fleece at 11d.; 6 at 11d.; 8 greasy at 6d.; CIS, 13 at 11d.; 1 piece at 6d.; R over RN, 12 fleeces at 8d.; 8B in circle, 45 at 12d.; 7 skirtings at 8d.; 2 locks at 6jd.; TE conjoined over Sanders, 10 fleece at 11jd., 4 pieces at 9jd., 1 lock at 7jd.; GR over Byerwen, 8 fleece at 10jd., 10 pieces at 9jd.; 10 locks at 6jd.; CT, 34 fleece at 12jd., 8 pieces at 8jd.; 6 locks at 6jd.; JT, 6 greasy at 11jd., 1 clips at 2jd., WJ, 22 fleece at 13jd.; PC over YC, 16 greasy at 5jd., 21 pieces at 2jd., 6 pieces at 6jd.; and 28 bales in small lots. Sheepskins at 2jd. to 6jd.; pelts, 1jd. to 2jd. Messrs. Irwin and Co.'s sales were (C) over C. 9 bales fleece at 11d., SB, 15 at 13jd.; K, 6 greasy at 6d., 2 locks at 3d.; Colwell, 1K, 6 greasy at 6d., 2 greasy at 5jd., 3 locks at 4d., 1 mixed at 5d.; 2 locks at 2d., 2 odd bales at 2d. to 5d. Sheepskins, 3d. to 5d. The prices which local manufacturers continue to pay for hides has almost put a stop to the export trade, and the shipments to England are of the most trivial character. Shipping parcels of good mutton tallow are a shade dearer, and in request; inferior lots dull of sale. Shipments to England during the last week have been in excess of those reported in our last avizur.

but three of them, including the Sir Alfred, Lawrence, which put back with rudder damaged, are still in port waiting favourable weather. Their cargoes are as follow:-Ellen Stuart: 5367½ bales 6 pockets wool, 2801 sacks flour, 3607 sacks wheat, 644
casks preserved meat, 147 casks pearl shell, 622 bags lead ore, 2854½ ingots 895 cakes copper, 147 bags cotton seed. Carlisle: 3438 bales wool, 847 casks tallow, 164 casks coconut, 178 casks leather,
490 casks preserved meat, 140
candle nuts, 179 bags cotton seed, 104 bales
flour, 35 bales cotton, 3347 ingots copper.
Eobias: 5027 bales wool, 184 bales cotton, 912 casks tallow, 529 casks preserved meat, 118
casks treacle, 3094 ingots 1048 cakes copper.
His John Laurence: 2532 bales wool, 1809
sides, 730 casks butter, 432 casks tallow, 4814 ingots copper, 35½ tons copper. Patriarch:
1707½ bales pockets wool, 23 bales
cotton, 35½ tons copper, 35 casks tallow.
39 casks butter, 961
sides, 265 bags cotton, 1310 bags lead ore.
Ben Lomond: 3060 bales wool, 23 bales cotton,
7 bales skins, 310 casks tallow, 339 sides, 164

casks coconut oil, 424 casks butter, 363 cases gum. A large amount of tonnage is now on the berth, and freights have fallen considerably. The Strathdon, Border Chief, Underley, and Summerhall, are all on the berth looking for The Strathnaver. Hawkesbury, British Isles Jubilee, and Brucklay Castle are also on the berth for London. Trade with Fiji and other South Sea Islands is increasing in a very satisfactory manner; and it is expected that the establishment of direct mail communication with Honolulu will tend to give the extensive lumbering interests with the Sandwich Islands.

THE IMPORT MARKETS.—Complaints that there is no business doing are very general. Dilemma has prevailed throughout the month.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT.

GREAT CASH PURCHASE
by MESSRS. PERRY, BROTHERS.

In anticipation of the inevitable scarcity of SILK GOODS which must occur through the WAR now raging in the principal SILK MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS OF THE WORLD, MESSRS. PERRY, BROTHERS (before the breaking-out of hostilities) BOUGHT FOR CASH several VERY LARGE PARCELS of BLACK and COLOURED SILKS, which have recently arrived, and are now being displayed.

Messrs. PERRY, BROTHERS have determined to make the arrival of these EXTRAORDINARY PARCELS OF SILK an occasion for bringing before the public of SYDNEY and the COLONY the whole of their IMMENSE SILK STOCK AT LONDON PRICES, re-marked and reduced the prices of their old stock to the level of the NEW ARRANGEMENTS THIS DAY.
